Happy Friday, everyone! It's Rainie from 731, speaking to you on Seal Summary Friday!

Did you know today is Lost and Found Day? The purpose of Lost and Found Day is to motivate us to give any things we may have found to their rightful owners, who may be upset over losing them. Likewise, it is a perfect chance to search for any missing personal items that we have lost or misplaced. If you think you lost or misplaced anything, try to retrace your steps today to find it.

Make sure to bring anything you find today back to the lost and found. This small act will significantly impact the person who lost their belongings.

It can all be summed up by this quote "Sometimes the things you've lost can be recovered again in unexpected places."

Thanks for listening have a Find What Is Lost Friday 😊
