Good morning, I.S 201! This is Nicole from class 851 here for Talk a Lot Tuesday on behalf of the S.E.A.L. Team.

Today is special because it is National Day of Giving. National Day of Giving always occurs on the Tuesday right after Thanksgiving. This holiday was created as an opportunity and a reminder for us to give back and give to those in need after spending Thanksgiving week shopping. It is a celebration of the generosity of giving. On this Tuesday after Thanksgiving charities, families, businesses, community centers, and students around the world gather together to celebrate generosity and to give.

There are many ways to celebrate the National Day of Giving. The hashtag #GivingTuesday was created to encourage people to give back and raise awareness about those in need. One idea to participate in #GivingTuesday is to partake in fundraisers in order to raise money for charity donations. Knitting blankets or other sorts of gifts for patients spending their holidays in the hospital is also a nice way to give back to your community and celebrate this day. You could even contact your local pet shelter and find out a way to help the animals.

National Day of Giving is a wonderful way to give back to the world. Spend it by donating gifts, time, or effort, and help someone out.

Thanks for listening and have a Time to Give Back Tuesday 😊
